New Year

The business upturn was one of the big developments of 1972 both locally and nationally, and with this pivotal year behind us most of the economic indicators signal "Go" for 1973.

The big disappointment of the old year was, of course, the delay in nailing down a peace agreement in Vietnam. Foreign criticism shouldn't dull Americans' hope that the reality of peace will be achieved in the coming months. After all, Hanoi has been talking to us—an unheard of circumstance before 1972—and whenever men are willing to meet at the conference table a final contract is just a matter of time.

It takes two to make a deal, and if our people resent some of the epithets Europeans throw at us because of Vietnam—notably Sweden—it is because the United States has a stake in the Far Pacific which Europe doesn't have.

Never forget that it was from the Far Pacific the U.S. was attacked at Pearl Harbor; and we had the task of fighting a war on two fronts—securing defense bases in the Pacific while at the same time rescuing Europe from the on-rushing Nazis in World War II.

I've about got my fill of European comment on U.S. foreign policy. Somehow it always winds up as a one-way ticket: Europe's opinions—but our men and our dollars. If Sweden ever did anything for human freedom since her one war with Czarist Russia several hundred years ago it's not in the history books.

By this time most Americans feel it was a mistake ever to commit our land troops to Vietnam. We should have confined our support to money and weapons and advisers.

So finally we are going out. But the circumstances under which we get out are just as important as the evacuation. Great Britain is no longer able to finance military power in the Western Pacific, and has withdrawn from her great base at Singapore. Either the United States must maintain Pacific bases or obtain treaty guarantees that the Communist powers won't rush in to fill the vacuum left by Britain's departure.

This is a complex matter. No wonder they are still haggling over the contract on Vietnam.

A prudent man checks the decision to statesmen. Certainly few private citizens and absolutely none of the anti-war activists know enough about the military position to say anything of value.

The best spokesman for the outlook in 1973 is the demonstrated fact that for the first time in years of war North Vietnam is now talking to us—and history testifies that that is how peace is eventually won.

HOLIDAY NOTICE

The Hope Star office will be closed at noon today (Monday), Jan. 1. Regular office hours will resume on Tuesday, Jan. 2.

Announcement

Effective today—Jan. 1, 1973—The Star is eliminating the discount for payment at the office of yearly carrier-delivered subscriptions. The discounted rate was computed as 52 times 35c a week, or $18.20.

Effective today the yearly rate, payable at the office only, will total out the same as the weekly rate—52 times 40c, or $20.80.

When The Star established the 40c weekly rate several years ago we set up the discount for "annuals" thinking the carriers would relish being relieved of the collection duty. However, the boys gradually demanded the same cut on "annuals" as they got for collecting at 40c a week.

Therefore The Star has no choice but to make one subscription rate for all—and the annual carrier-delivered charge is $20.80—payable only on billing from the office.

US broadens halt in bombing of VN

SAIGON (AP) — The United States broadened on Monday its halt in the bombing of the Hanoi-Haiphong heartland to include all of North Vietnam.

U.S. officials indicated that the bombing cessation from the 20th parallel 200 miles southward to the demilitarized zone is one of short duration in connection with a 24-hour South Vietnamese cease-fire for the new year that ends at dusk Monday. A unilateral 24-hour Viet Cong cease-fire ended just after noon.

The U.S. bombing halt above the 20th parallel, which includes Hanoi and Haiphong, is in effect indefinitely, tied to the resumption of secret peace talks in Paris scheduled Jan. 8.

Peking's official Hsinhua news agency reported early Monday a series of statements attributed to captured American pilots. The statements deplored the U.S. bombing of North Vietnam.

One F4 pilot, identified as Maj. Carl Herbert Jefcoat, was quoted as saying U.S. leaders "must take all measures to put an immediate end to the war" in Vietnam.

Another, Lt. Col. William

Walter Conlee, was quoted as saying: "We observed a row of shops and living quarters which have been bombed and also a hospital which has been badly damaged, and we observed a school that has been bombed heavily."

Hungary's MTI news agency said Jefcoat was a lieutenant, however, and said he was from Mississippi. It gave Conlee's home state as Illinois. Other prisoners named were Lt. Paul Louis Granger and Lt. Col. John Harry Yuill, both B52 pilots. Their hometowns were not given.

The Saigon command reported more than a score of violations at the halfway mark of the New Year cease-fires. The command said five government soldiers were killed, five missing and 36 wounded. Two civilians also were reported wounded. North Vietnamese and Viet Cong losses were put at six killed.

The heaviest fighting was reported in Quang Tri Province in the northern quarter of South Vietnam and in Tay Ninh Province, about 45 miles northwest of Saigon. The Saigon command said North Vietnamese troops hit government positions with 500 artillery and mortar shells and followed up with ground assaults.

There were no attacks reported against American forces.

Traditional holiday cease-fires, which always are unsupervised, have been taken in nature and meaningless in effect, since each side always charges the other with scores of violations.

Airplane crashes

Roberto Clemente
is said on board

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — A cargo plane carrying the Pittsburgh Pirates' star outfielder Roberto Clemente and four others on a relief flight to Nicaragua crashed into the Atlantic Sunday night, the U.S. Coast Guard reported.

Search efforts throughout the night yielded no survivors.

A spokesman at San Juan International Airport said the four-engine DC7 went down seconds after taking off on a flight to Managua across the Caribbean. Clemente headed Puerto Rico's relief efforts for Nicaraguan earthquake survivors.

A Puerto Rico Ports Authority official said the other occupants of the propeller-driven plane were pilot Jerry Geisel; copilot and owner Arthur Rivera, a private air-cargo operator; flight engineer Rafael Macias; and another passenger identified only as Lorenzo.

Clemente's wife refused to talk to newsmen, but a sister of the Pirate's star said he had been due to leave Sunday evening for Nicaragua.

The Coast Guard said two helicopters and two boats were searching the choppy waters of the Atlantic about one and a half miles north of the San Juan airport but no survivors had been found. Amadee Charbon of the airport communications department at San Juan International said the plane went down at 9:22 p.m. It was loaded with medicine, food and relief supplies for the survivors of the devastating earthquake at Managua Dec. 23.

Clemente, 38, was named to head Puerto Rico's earthquake relief effort on Christmas Eve.

Sources at San Juan International said the DC7 plunged into the Pacific as it made a sharp left bank while climbing after takeoff, a normal procedure for aircraft leaving from the field.

They said the plane was owned by Arthur Rivera, a private air-cargo operator.

Clemente completed his 18th season with the Pirates in 1972.

Last season, he became the 11th man in baseball history to reach 3,000 hits for a baseball career.

Clemente had compiled a lifetime batting average of over .300. He won four National League batting titles and hit over .300 13 times.

Last season, he batted .312 in 102 games. In 1971, he batted .414 in the World Series against the Baltimore Orioles and was named the outstanding performer in the series, won by the Pirates.

He won the National League's Most Valuable Player award in 1966 and was selected to the league's all-star team 12 times.

He was born Aug. 18, 1934, in Puerto Rico.

It was on Nov. 22, 1954, that the Pittsburgh Pirates paid $4,000 to draft the young, obscure Puerto Rican from the Montreal farm team of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Clemente collected his 3,000th hit Sept. 30 when he lashed a double in the fourth inning in a game against the New York Mets. The crowd of 13,117 at Three Rivers Stadium in Pittsburgh gave him a standing ovation, and the game was stopped while he was awarded the baseball from that hit.

Only two other active players, Hank Aaron of the Atlanta Braves and Willie Mays of the Mets have attained the 3,000-hit circle.

Copilot may be only link to cause of plane crash in Florida swamps

MIAMI (AP) — An extra copilot may be the last living link to what happened in the cockpit of an Eastern Air Lines jumbo jet moments before it crashed in the murky Everglades, killing at least 97 persons.

Federal officials say First Officer Warren Terry, 38, who was not a regular crewman on Flight 401 but was listed on the passenger list as an observer, may have been in the cockpit when the plane crash-landed in the swamp 17 miles northwest of Miami Friday night.

Terry, who joined Eastern Aug. 29, 1966, was listed in "poor condition" early today at Palmetto Hospital in Miami. His injuries were not disclosed, but officials said he was unable to talk.

"If he was in the cabin, he is the last living link to what happened there," said Ed Slattery, a National Transportation Safety Board official.

Terry was believed to be riding in the "jump seat" located behind the pilot seats on the flight deck of the Lockheed 1011. Slattery said NTSB investigators had not been able to establish where he was when the plane crashed, however.

Eastern spokesmen couldn't immediately say why Terry was on the plane, and federal officials said they didn't know either.

Meanwhile, Eastern Air Lines tentatively announced 97 of the 178 passengers and crewmen aboard were killed and 80 others survived.

One person was unaccounted for, an Eastern spokesman said. He said last-minute ticket changes made it difficult to determine who was on the plane when it left New York for Miami.

John H. Reed, chairman of the NTSB, said tapes of the conversations among crewmembers before the plane went down indicated there was no awareness of danger before impact.

"There is no evidence in what I have found on this tape or any other tape that an emergency situation existed," Reed said. He said no words of alarm were exchanged as the plane banked to make a second landing attempt at Miami International Airport.

The first landing approach was aborted when a control-panel light indicated incorrectly that the front landing gear had not gone down.

Capt. Robert A. Loft's last radio transmission said the gear was down and he wanted clearance to land.

Reed said one of the life-saving factors was the absence of a major fire and the cushioning effect of Everglades mud. Investigators said there was a minor fire which apparently was extinguished by swamp water.

Federal investigators said they examined the hydraulic, control and electrical systems at the crash site and were unable to find mechanical malfunctions.

Voice tapes, air-traffic-control recordings and Automatic Radar Terminal Service computer readouts are being analyzed and may be able to indicate what caused the crash, Slattery said.

However, Slattery said, studies of that evidence won't be complete for several weeks.

Donald L. Repo, the second officer and flight engineer, was the only regular member of the cockpit crew to survive the impact, but he died Sunday, leaving Terry the last hope for federal investigators seeking an eyewitness report on the plane's final moments in the air.

Reed said Sunday that the regular copilot, First Officer

Albert J. Stockstill, was at the controls when the L1011 disappeared from the radar screen at Miami International.

Reed also disclosed Sunday that an autopsy indicated Loft, 52, had a small brain tumor, but Reed said there was no evidence that the benign growth interfered with the pilot's flying ability.

1972 bloody blot on history of Ireland

BELFAST (AP) — The curtain fell today on the bloodiest year in Northern Ireland history; and, in the Irish Republic to the south, the new year began with a shooting deaths of young man and woman two miles from the border.

Irish police said they found the shooting victims after the farmer reported hearing shots about 2 a.m. outside his home near the Donegal village of Burnfoot.

The killings came only three days after a rash of bombings on the Irish side of the border killed two persons and wounded 15.

In Northern Ireland today, there was a flurry of shooting and bombing, and the outlawed Irish Republican Army vowed worse violence in the months ahead.

The last day of 1972 claimed the last death of the year. A 56-year-old Catholic baker, Hugh Martin, was found shot dead in his car Sunday morning in Belfast.

As bells chimed out the old year in the battered British province, gunfire broke out in the Ardoyne and New Lodge Roman Catholic districts of Belfast. One man was shot and seriously wounded.

A bomb wrecked a garage at Newton Butler, County Fermanagh, and three gasoline bombs were thrown through the window of a Catholic home in Bangor, County Down. There were no serious casualties.

Four people were wounded in Belfast late Sunday night when gunmen ambushed a bus carrying Catholics and sprayed it with bullets.

Mrs. Nixon, 'Duke' are slated to head cast for Rose Parade

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Mrs. Richard M. Nixon and actor John Wayne head the cast for today's 84th annual Rose Parade, which is expected to draw one million persons and a worldwide television audience of 300 million.

Parade-watchers, many of them vacationing college students here for the Rose Bowl football game between Southern California and Ohio State, started jockeying for curb space to watch the parade as early as Friday.

Hundreds traditionally see in New Year's on the curbs—some bringing sleeping bags and portable heaters to make the sub-50 degree night temperatures easier to take.

The weatherman promised a midday temperature in the 60s. Wayne was chosen grand marshal in keeping with the "movieland" theme of the parade, officially known as the Tournament of Roses. Mrs. Nixon will ride in the parade with Dr. John Hubbard, president of the University of Southern California.

Since the event is known for its use of fresh flowers, Southern California's recent December heat wave posed a problem—causing chrysanthemums to bloom prematurely.

The solution? "We had to bring in a lot of colored mums from Florida," said the co-owner of one of the parade's major float-building firms.

Fireworks are in store when Congress meets

By JAY PERKINS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The 93rd Congress convenes Wednesday amid indications the coming session could produce more fireworks than any since the late President Harry S. Truman took on the 80th Congress a quarter century ago.

Democrats, their Senate majority enlarged to 57 and their House losses held to 12 seats in the Nov. 7 election, are talking of challenging President Nixon on issues ranging from the Vietnam war to federal spending.

Sen. Robert C. Byrd, the assistant Democratic leader, says he has no doubt that efforts will be made to cut off money for the war unless an agreement is reached in Paris. But he said he personally will not support such efforts during the next 30 days, nor perhaps within the next 60 days, and feels that the real hope for peace lies in the negotiations in Paris.

Questioned Sunday on NBC's "Meet the Press," Byrd offered this list of priorities:

"Hijacking legislation; legislation dealing with highways, trade, the extension of price and wage controls, strip mining, the energy crisis; I think the Congress will come to grips with the issue of separation of powers and I think that it will be more assertive of its rightful place in the constitutional system of checks and balances."

Internal reform could set off another battle in the early days of the new Congress. The seniority system of selecting committee chairmen is expected to be tested in the House where a move is under way to persuade the Democratic caucus to elect chairmen instead of appointing them on the basis of seniority.

A coalition of some 50 organizations calling itself the Committee on Congressional Reform is pushing for election of chairmen as well as another proposal to ban closed sessions of committees unless personnel matters or national security are being discussed.

One perennial Senate fight, over a proposal to modify the rule requiring a two-thirds vote to choke off filibusters, is not expected to come up this session.

Some liberal Democrats who have favored lowering the two-thirds rule to make it easier to cut off debate have had a change of mind. And Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., says he does not anticipate the issue will be raised this session. Some liberals, however, say at least a token effort may be made to modify the rule.

The biggest fights between Nixon and Congress are sure to be over the President's refusal to spend Congress-approved money in his effort to cut federal spending. Another area of conflict is his revenue-sharing approach which turns some of Congress' program control over to states and cities.

The President and Democratic leaders also are at loggerheads over extension of wage-price controls, national health insurance, tax reform, a higher minimum wage and Nixon's government-reorganization plan.

Police battle crowd

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Police battled a crowd of between 4,000 and 6,000 New Year's revelers at a popular beachfront early today. Twenty-seven persons were injured, including 16 policemen, and 36 persons were arrested, police said.

Broward County Sheriff's Lt. John Tamburello said a force of about 150 law enforcement officers was required to quell the hour-long disturbance which covered about a half-mile of Atlantic Boulevard, an area of bars and motels favored by college vacationers.

The disturbance broke out about midnight when a crowd gathered around two plainclothes detectives who were arresting a man at a bar on assault and battery charges, police said.

Police said one youth struck one of the two detectives, who drew and fired his pistol.

Britain joins ranks of the Common Market

By CARL HARTMAN
Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP) — Britain surrendered a thousand years of economic independence to join Europe's Common Market today, but there were signs many in the island nation and on the mainland viewed it as just another historic milestone.

A survey showed British public opinion divided over the prospect of lost sovereignty and higher prices. The poll found 39 per cent opposed the move, 38 per cent liked it and 23 per cent had no opinion.

Not everyone on the continent marched to the tune of "Zukunftsmusik," German for "Music of the Future."

"The competition will be fierce and perhaps not very pleasant at first, but it's bound to be good for this country in the end," said George Dowling, 58, a North London businessman.

"Lots of people I know are worried that Britain is going to be bossed from Brussels," said Robert Wheatley, 22, a bank clerk from a London suburb. "That's probably not true, but many of my friends don't like even the possibility."

Some centralized bossing is inevitable. All the Common Market countries—Britain, Ireland and Denmark, the new members, and France, West Germany, Italy, Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg, the original six—have given up some of their independence.

The basic arrangement is that of a customs union. All members let in each others' goods without duty and charge the same import taxes on goods from outside the nine nations.

But Western Europe's cost of living soars faster than that of the United States, and there are complicating factors in the new accord.

Denmark, Copenhagen restaurants sold bottles of New Year's champagne at two rates: as much as $22 before midnight and as little as $12 afterwards since taxes on champagne dropped from $6 to $1. However, tax collectors are likely to point out that both bottles sold in Copenhagen at New Year's had to be imported in 1972. They will want to collect from the restaurants at the old rate.

Bubbly buffs in Britain and Ireland got no such favors.

Food will cost more in Britain after Feb. 1 because Common Market prices for farm products are well above world levels. Meat, grain, sugar and dairy products will cost more. But Britons could get some fruits and vegetables cheaper under the continental system.

The new arrangements add irritation to relations between Western Europe and the United States. U.S. farmers long have attacked the old Common Market for keeping down imports of American products. Now Britain must adopt these measures too.

But higher farm prices are good news in Ireland and Denmark, where farmers make up a large proportion of the eight million population. Only about four per cent of the 55 million Britons still are down on the farm.

Manufacturing tariffs go down April 1, but the cuts are spread over five years, so the first ones will amount to only two or three per cent on most products.

The present rate of inflation in Britain could boost prices by that much between now and April.

Besides, importers tend to take a tariff reduction as an additional profit rather than pass it to their customers.

In Italy, a value-added tax goes into effect today amid fears it will bring higher prices as it has in other Common Market countries. Britain starts later in the year.

The West Germans and French have been talking about the advantages of a joint attack on inflation, but what they expect to accomplish is unclear.

In the matters of daily international life, the Common Market has not brought much change to anyone but a comparatively small number of farmers and businessmen. Tariffs are abolished, but taxes still are charged on small shipments from one member country to another.

There are more customs posts on the borders than ever.

The nine member countries have agreed citizens from any member ought to be free to settle in any other, but there is a lot of fine print attached to this.

Immigrants to Britain, even if they are British subjects, will have to live in the country five years before they can exercise that right on the continent. This will apply to Asians from Uganda.

The freedom to move exists for most manual workers; but, if you are a doctor, lawyer, teacher, banker or stockbroker, your credentials will not be recognized.

Nixon: Loner?

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon added to his image as a rather secretive loner on New Year's Eve by flying back to Washington from Camp David, Md.

Newsmen and photographers who had gone to the Maryland mountains Thursday, when Nixon flew to his hilltop retreat, had expected him to stay there throughout the holiday weekend.

His departure, minutes after he watched on television as the Washington Redskins captured the National Football Conference championship from the Dallas Cowboys, prompted speculation that he must have invited old friends to an unannounced White House party.

However, acting Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren said he knew of no party plans for the chief executive, or of any guests expected at the White House Sunday night. Warren did disclose that, after returning to the capital, Nixon telephoned congratulations to Redskins Coach George Allen and invited the coach to bring his family to the White House this morning.

Otherwise, said Warren, Nixon had no formal holiday appointment schedule for today. He said Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, Nixon's Vietnam peace negotiator, is not due back from a California vacation until Tuesday.

Mrs. Nixon, meanwhile, had left earlier for California to participate in today's Tournament of Roses Parade in Pasadena.

Since winning his landslide re-election victory on Nov. 7, Nixon has followed a pattern that was consistently his throughout the old year.

A Changing of the Guard at Moo, but ...

Alley Oop Lives On

By Linda Kay Richardson

NEW YORK—(NEA) — Comic strips are a funny form of folk art. Little kids and presidents alike become hooked on favorite characters and follow their escapades through the years as religiously as some folks watch the stock market.

When a comic strip survives wars, economic disasters and generations of social change, maybe it's because the reader has discovered in it an element of timelessness which keeps him young.

Such strips span the times like apple pie and a few have added a la mode of being passed from the hand of their creator to that of a protégé.

One comic strip in this glorified category is Alley Oop, the prehistoric brainchild of V.T. Hamlin.

Alley Oop is a regular featured comic strip in the Hope Star.

On Dec. 31, Hamlin retired from active duty with Newspaper Enterprise Association, distributors of Alley Oop, and Dave Graue, who has been drawing the daily Oop strips for over six years, will assume full creative responsibility for the caveman's antics.

Graue started working with Hamlin in 1950 in the time-honored role of lettering the strip.

"I was fascinated with the way V.T. made the teeth on Oop's pet dinosaur," reminisces Graue. "If you notice, he eliminated the gums completely." Graue adds wryly that he still has all his own teeth—and gums.

Alley Oop was still in its formative stages when Graue joined forces with Hamlin. Imitating Hamlin's style was easy, he reports, adding "I would have made a great counterfeiter."

Graue explains that Oop's physiognomy was inspired by the hand-carved coconut heads sold in his home state of Florida. As a personality, the artist sees him as "a big guy with a lot of native intelligence."

Oop's basically a human

being who rises to the occasion when he has to," Graue continues. "Just like the rest of us, he doesn't like being trapped into a difficult situation, but he always comes through."

Graue is mainly into suspense and humor as devices to entertain his readers.

"Alley Oop is generally science-fiction humor. But the strip's base is so broad that if you get a new idea or two, you can throw them in without breaking the thread of continuity."

V.T. Hamlin first introduced Alley Oop to the public in the late 1930s. He thought up an ingenious "Time-Machine" to allow his Neanderthal characters to travel through modern history and the future and back again to the Land of Moo.

Decades before Americans even thought a trip to the moon was feasible. Oop and his girl friend, Ooola, journeyed to now familiar lunar fields with greater ease than even Jules Verne had imagined.

Graue will continue to utilize the Time-Machine and all the old characters in Alley Oop, although he likes to bring new faces into the strip from time to time. The Grand Wizard, Dr. Womug, operator of the Time-Machine when Oop leaps from one time span to another. Ooola, the femme fatale in Oop's life, King Guz, Foozy, Queen Umpa, Dinny the dinosaur and all the other inhabitants of the Land of Moo will continue to cavort across Graue's drawing board.

Yet even as he moves into the time consuming job of creating and drawing both the daily and Sunday Alley Oop strips, Graue finds he needs help, too. To aid in the production of Alley Oop, Graue has hired on a young assistant who joins him in his Sarasota studio to letter the balloons in the panels.

Hundreds of thousands of fans throughout North America will continue to smile along with Graue as he perpetuates one of the nation's best-loved comics.

Fish rain from the sky? 'We saw it happen'

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1973 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: The man who told his wife he saw fish falling from the sky was not crazy; neither was he lying.

In the summer of 1926, I caddied at a local golf course. There had been a long drought that summer and the fairways were brown and dried up.

One afternoon while I was caddying, a sudden storm came up and a terrific thundershower followed. Rain came down in torrents, and with it came a shower of tiny frogs about the size of nickels. They were alive and jumping all over, thousands of them!

The golfers and I couldn't believe our eyes as we watched thousands of frogs come right down with the rain from the sky. We saw it happen.

WM. A. WALKER, EVANSVILLE, IND.

DEAR ABBY: Here I have gone all my 70 years without writing a letter to a columnist, but now Dear Abby has finally smoked me out. I can't sleep until I help out that poor devil whose wife thinks he needs to see a shrink because he said he saw it raining fish!

He may have. In some areas, summer storms are preceded by twisters which are in reality tornados that suck up an immense amount of water from a stream or pond, and with it all the life that is in it. It's converted into a "waterspout" and carried for miles before it's deposited in a shower of rain.

If anyone doubts this, write to me, and I'll spin some wonderful yarns about flying saucers.

F. C. MILLER, SAN DIEGO, CAL.

DEAR ABBY: I was raised on a farm in Minnesota, and as a boy I remember a storm coming up. It looked serious so we all ran to the cellar. In 40 minutes it was all over.

Afterwards, we went outside and saw our chickens going wild, eating tiny fish and frogs. We were inland at least 10 miles, so the only explanation was that a tornado had sucked them up out of a stream and had dumped them on our farm. This is not a fish story. I saw it with my own eyes.

FLOYD J. McMANUS, LAGUNA BEACH, CAL.

DEAR ABBY: I lived on a farm three miles from Ashland, Wis. A storm came up suddenly and afterwards I saw little tiny fish in the cowtracks around our barn. I'm no kid, Abby. I am 80 years old.

RICHARD HAGSTROM, ZIG ZAG, ORE.

DEAR ABBY: A friend of mine named Ed Brady heard something strike the roof of his home during a severe rainstorm, and the next day he found a big eel in his rainbarrel. He lived half a mile from the river. This occurred at Ouaquaga, N. Y. Ed Brady still lives there and can verify it.

H. D. JOHNSON, WALTON, N. Y.

DEAR ABBY: I personally drove thru a "rainstorm" of tadpoles in western Missouri 14 years ago.

TADPOLES FALLING ON MY HEAD
IN DODGE CITY, KAS.

DEAR ABBY: I learned about how fish could be sucked up by a funnel cloud and dropped miles inland when I was a lad in public school in Holland, 55 years ago.

Y. Y. OUDSHOORN, VICTORIA, B. C., CANADA

DEAR ABBY: Of course it could have rained fish. It rained HERRING in Scotland in March of 1817. The "her-ring rain" lasted about an hour, and this is no fish story.

KIM LONG, WHEELING, W. VA.

DEAR ABBY: About 35 years ago while I was driving thru a thunderstorm near Hershey, Pa., dozens of tiny frogs came down and pelted the hood of my automobile.

MRS. DAVID J. HOCHSTETLER

Couple exchange vows in Methodist rites

Miss Elizabeth Kaye Putman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Dale Putnam of Shreveport, La. and David James Hochstetler, son of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Hochstetler of Monroe, La. exchanged wedding vows Dec. 16 in the First Methodist Church in Shreveport.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown fashioned of ivory sateu peau organza and Venise lace designed with a high rise lace bodice featuring a neckline defined in scalloped forming a portrait look. The long bishop sleeves were finished with deep lace cuffs. The full circular skirt fell in graceful folds to the hemline extending into a sweep train. Her chapel length matilla of illusion was attached to a pete cap of Venise lace with lace bordering the long veil. She carried a bouquet of small white baby roses with lillies of the valley.

Miss Sandra Dale Putman, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids wore sapphire blue velvet empire gowns featuring wide yoke collars of ivory Venise lace. The fitted long sleeves were trimmed in matching lace. They carried bouquets of powder blue stephanotis and gypsophila. Each wore matching blossoms in her coiffure.

After the wedding a reception was held in the parlor of Couch Chapel in the church.

The couple will be at home in Ruston, La. The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. G.P. Putman of Hope.

Don't Get the Point

The shape of this year's fashionable nail is squared off. If the look's not for you, the classic oval shape nail is fine, but never nails to a point.

Darker Base

Try a deeper shade of foundation if you're suffering from the winter pales. Use a darker shade base, carefully blend, then use a peach or pink blusher.

Blend With Care

Make-up creates optical illusion and can play down facial flaws, but the important thing to remember is to carefully blend the make-up. If you're trying to play down that double chin (while you're exercising and losing weight) use a darker shade of make-up base under the chin and carefully blend edges with the rest of the make-up.

Eye Touch

A dab of vaseline mixed with powder eye shadow makes the color last longer and prevents cake up.

Couple exchange vows in Jonesboro

Miss Mary Joyce Berry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Berry of Jonesboro, and John Alfred King, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank King of Hope, exchanged wedding vows Dec. 30 in the Nettleton Baptist Church in Jonesboro. The Rev. Harold Ray of Nettleton officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose an Empire style gown of white satinessa with French lace and seed pearls and a mantilla veil with matching French lace. Her bridal bouquet was of white and yellow daisies.

The bride's attendants were Miss Wanda Bickham, Miss Peggy King, Mrs. Janice Vernon, and Miss Becky Ross. All wore full length dresses of gold polyester crepe with green velvet trim. Each carried a single large mum.

Groomsmen were Frank King, Walter Thomas, Don Purdy, and Carl Berry.

A reception was held after the ceremony in the church.

Swing With Silver

With the glitter tops craze in full swing, inexpensive silver jewelry is the perfect accessory. Try large silver button earrings, bangle bracelets and choker beads around the neck.

Color Winter White

Winter whites, such as white wool flannel pants, bring pastel colored sweaters into the light. This year it's anything but drab for winter colors.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Old receiving blankets used as diapers

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—My solution to the problem of what to do with an oversupply of baby receiving blankets was to use them as night diapers. They are so wonderfully absorbent. I also used some to line quilts I made for baby's bed. Using two alike makes a quilt with a pretty lining that is very warm next to baby.—HELEN

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—I am fortunate to have my grandmother's oak hat rack with a mirror. It is about 80 years old and has numerous nicks and scratches. This rack was evidently not taken down when the wall was painted many times. There are several colors of paint splattered and smeared along the edges. How can I remove this old paint and either touch up the nicks or refinish the rack without ruining its antique value?—MRS. S. W.

DEAR POLLY—My Pet Peeve is with the economy size packages of plastic wrap which is wound on a larger cardboard tube and does not fit in my regular dispenser. The tube is the right length but too big around.—THELMA

DEAR POLLY—My Pointer is for those bothered with animals getting into their trash cans. I, too, had that problem until I bought a large plastic garbage can with a snap-on lid. A large black heavy-duty trash bag is put into it with about 10 inches left to fold back over the rim.

Fill the bag through the week and on pickup day remove the lid, gather together the top of the bag and tie with the fastener that came with it. The whole can can be set out. It is easy for the bag to be lifted out and dumped into the truck. If the can has to be left out overnight the lid is snapped on. If a metal can is used, the lid can be held on with a rope, chain or straightened-out coat hanger and then a piece of wire used to hold it together. Hook whatever is used through the handles on the sides and the lid, too. This may seem quite a bother but so is picking up and resacking trash that might have blown around. Remember to remove the lid early in the morning if the can is left outside the night before garbage collection.—LINDA

DEAR POLLY—If your kitchen is not as up-to-date as it might be and you would like to make your wood cabinet doors and drawer fronts more attractive, cover them with that pretty adhesive backed paper that comes in all colors and patterns. Your kitchen will assume a new look and gaiety.—KAREN

Busy Bee Cake

Busy bees made the honey that goes into this cake and other "busy bees" will eat it—and enjoy its rich chocolate honey flavor. It is still possible to bake cakes like "grandma" used to make when you use old reliable products such as Baker's Chocolate, popular since 1780. Dependable ingredients help make memorable cakes and this one is so good it will disappear right out of the pan—fast!

HONEY CHOCOLATE CAKE

2 cups sifted cake flour	2 eggs
1½ teaspoons baking soda	3 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
½ teaspoon salt	1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup butter or margarine	½ cup water
1¼ cups honey

Sift flour, soda, and salt. Cream butter; add honey, one tablespoon at a time, beating well after each to keep batter thick. Add one-fourth of flour mixture; beat until smooth. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each. Blend in chocolate and vanilla. Add rest of flour, alternately with water, beginning and ending with flour; beat very well. Bake in 13 x 9-inch pan, lined on bottom with paper, at 350° for 45 minutes, or until tester comes out clean. Frost as desired.

Southern Cal picked to win the Rose Bowl

BY EARL GERHEIM
Associated Press Sports Writer
Southern California, an awesome scoring machine ranked No. 1 in the nation, is a hefty favorite to whip Ohio State in today's 59th Rose Bowl football game but Buckeye Coach Woody Hayes discounts the odds.

"There's not a team that can't be had," said the crusty Hayes. "Sure, Southern Cal is fast—faster than anybody. There's a way to stop speed before it gets started, but I'll be damned if I'm going to tell you."

This oldest of the bowl games is one of three postseason grid-iron classics today. No. 4 Alabama and No. 7 Texas battle in the Cotton Bowl while No. 9 Nebraska and No. 12 Notre Dame play tonight in the Orange Bowl.

Southern Cal, 11-0, seeking its third national title in the last 10 years under Coach John McKay, has averaged 430.1 yards and 38.6 points per game. The Trojans' offensive punch comes from fleet-footed 5-foot-9 tailback Anthony Davis and quarterback Mike Rae, who has a pass completion average of 55 per cent.

"They can run and pass, they have a good defense," Hayes said of Southern Cal, a 14-point favorite. "There is no weakness to their attack. They are No. 1 and rightfully so. We're No. 3, wanting to be No. 1."

Favored Nebraska, powered by Heisman Trophy winner Johnny Rodgers, will be attempting to regain some prominence after winning national championships the past two years: Rodgers has scored 17 touchdowns this season.

Notre Dame sophomore signal-caller Tom Clements has completed 51 per cent of his passes for 163 yards and eight touchdowns while Eric Penick has rushed for 727 yards and an average of 5.9 a carry.

Both Alabama and Texas will be wielding the Wishbone-T offense—a creation of Longhorn Coach Darrell Royal. The Crimson Tide has averaged 302.9 yards rushing with the Wishbone while Texas has averaged 276 on the ground. "I tell you Alabama can throw the ball and the Wishbone," says Texas defensive coordinator Mike Campbell. "But they really don't run their Wishbone much different than we do."

Tinker Owens, a 17-year-old freshman and brother of former Heisman Trophy winner Steve Owens, scored one touchdown and set up another as Oklahoma whipped Penn State 14-0 in the Sugar Bowl New Year's Eve. Owens scored in the first quarter after grabbing a 27-yard pass and caught a 17-yarder in the fourth that set up Leon Crosswhite's one-yard TD plunge.

In bowl games played Saturday, No. 6 Auburn ripped No. 13 Colorado 4-3 in the Gator Bowl, North Carolina defeated Texas Tech 32-28 in the Sun Bowl, the East edged the West 9-3 in the Shrine game and Tennessee beat Louisiana State 24-18 in the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl.

Auburn capitalized on several Colorado mistakes as Mike Fuller hit Rob Seiple with a 22-yard scoring strike and Dave Beck fired a 16-yarder to Don Nugent for another touchdown.

A 13-yard scoring pass from Nick Vidnovic to Ted Leverenz in the final minutes of the game carried the Tar Heels to victory and ruined the three-touchdown performance of Texas Tech's George Smith. Tennessee manhandled LSU in the first half and built up a 24-3 halftime bulge but then had to weather a fierce second-half onslaught by the Tigers for the victory.

"Momentum is a crazy thing," said Tennessee Coach Bill Battle. "I can't explain what made it swing from Tennessee to LSU. Maybe we played a little too conservative in the second half."

LSU Coach Charlie McClendon said: "You saw two teams with pride and I can't express how proud I am of this LSU team."

TEAM CANADA NO. 1
TORONTO (AP) — Team Canada, which scored a sensational comeback victory over the Soviet National hockey team, has been voted Canada's outstanding team of 1972 in a poll conducted by The Canadian Press.
The Canadians, made up of National Hockey League stars, rallied from a 3-1 deficit in games and beat the Russians 4-3 with Paul Henderson scoring the winning goal in the closing seconds of the final game.

Hope downs Bradley

Friday night basketball action at Jones Field House saw the Hope Kitty Cats and Ladycats defeat a strong Bradley team. Mona Rowe, at left, looks for the rebound in the senior game. Gigi Gladney, at right, battles for the ball in more Ladycat action. The Ladycats defeated Bradley 39-25. In the junior game, the Hope Kitty Cats won in an overtime by a score of 30-26. More girls basketball action is scheduled for Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. when Hope will meet Stephens.

Ark. grabs third place in tourney

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Ohio University dominated Cornell on the backboards and on the scoreboard, crushing the Big Red 100-66 here Saturday night in the finals of the Razorback Classic basketball tournament.

Arkansas rallied from a 19-point deficit to edge Southern Illinois 97-95 and grab third place in the tournament.

Ohio held a 52-32 advantage over Cornell in rebounds and led by 15 points at the half. Ohio Coach Jim Snyder cleared his bench midway through the second half.

Walter Luckett, a freshman guard, came off the bench to lead the Bobcats with 17 points.

A 10-foot jump shot by Jody Bass with seven seconds remaining gave Arkansas its victory.

Martin Terry, who led the Razorbacks with 37 points, sank a field goal with 35 seconds left to tie the score 95-95. Doug Campbell intercepted a long pass to set up Bass' heroics.

Dean Tolson complemented Terry with 21 rebounds and 26 points. Dennis White contributed 14 points and Steve Price added 12.

Campbell, who spearheaded Arkansas' pressing defense, said he was beginning to doubt his team's chances when the Razorbacks trailed by 19.

"Then we got some momentum," he said. "When we finally cut it to seven, I felt like we could catch them because everyone was picking up a little."

Arkansas, 6-3 for the season, plays Centenary Thursday in Fayetteville.

Memphis St. regains prestige

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer
Memphis State, tabbed a college basketball powerhouse before the season, has bounced back from a disastrous start and regained its prestige.

The Tigers from the Missouri Valley Conference won their fifth in a row Saturday night, beating Vanderbilt for the first time ever 74-71.

Memphis State, 21-7 last season, was ranked No. 11 in the pre-season Associated Press poll, but the Tigers dropped out of the Top Twenty when they lost three of their first five games. Two of the defeats were dealt in a row by Marquette and Texas.

The Tigers started to click when they beat Navy 80-51.

Miami enroute to Super Bowl VII

By GARY MIHOCS

Associated Press Sports Writer
PITTSBURGH (AP) — It's wait until next year for the young Pittsburgh Steelers, but next year is now for the Miami Dolphins, pro football perfectionists.

The Dolphins earned the right to meet the Washington Redskins in Super Bowl VII Jan. 14 by defeating the Steelers 21-17 here Sunday in the American Football Conference title game.

Larry Seiple's daring dash on a fake punt and quarterback Bob Griese's off-the-bench heroics enabled Don Shula's Dolphins to boost their record to 16-0 and end the best season in Steeler history.

The frenzied chants of Gerela's Gorillas and Franco's Italian Army and the touch of magic that had been a Steeler trademark all season weren't enough against Miami.

Seiple's 37-yard run from punt formation set up the tying score, but the momentum really swung when Shula replaced veteran Earl Morrall with Griese, who had played just one game since breaking his leg five months ago.

The Steelers had taken a 10-3 lead in the third quarter on a field goal by Roy Gerela, but Griese engineered the two touchdown drives that meant the difference.

The Steelers, who finished with a 12-4 record after winning the first division title in their 40-year history, were in the game until the end.

However, Terry Bradshaw, hospitalized last week with the flu and bothered by headaches and a pinched nerve in his left shoulder, was intercepted twice in the closing moments.

The Dolphins, who lost to the Dallas Cowboys in last year's Super Bowl, came from behind to beat Pittsburgh, just as they did last week against the Cleveland Browns.

Morrall, who guided the Dolphins offense in Griese's absence, gave Pittsburgh its only big break of the game in the first period when he tossed a pass that John Rowser intercepted at the Miami 48-yard line. With rookie Franco Harris eating up yardage, the Steelers drove to the Miami two where Bradshaw rolled to his left.

He was hit hard by Miami safety Jake Scott and fumbled into the endzone, where Pittsburgh tight end Gerry Mullins recovered for a Steeler touchdown.

Bradshaw predicted last week that the Steelers would win.

Cowboys ambushed by pesky Redskins

By BOB GREENE

Associated Press Sports Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Redskins, whose last pro football championship came when Franklin D. Roosevelt was in his third term as President, ambushed the Dallas Cowboys Sunday to capture a Super Bowl berth.

Washington's 26-3 victory over Dallas gives the Redskins the National Conference championship and sends them against the Miami Dolphins, 21-17 winners over the Pittsburgh Steelers, for the National Football League's world championship on Jan. 14 in Los Angeles.

Buffaloes is promised land

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Once upon a time, the National Hockey League dreamed about the far-off future when its expansion teams would reach the promised land of parity.

Well, welcome to 1972 and Buffalo's arrival in that promised land.

The Sabres stung Chicago 8-2 in the only NHL game played Thursday night and the victory was Buffalo's seventh straight over an NHL pre-expansion team.

What's more, the victory moved the surprising Sabres into a tie for third place in the NHL East with the idle New York Rangers.

"We have a lot to be thankful for," Washington Coach George Allen said. "It was a great team win, a 40-man victory."

Later Sunday night, Allen received a telephone call from President Nixon, who invited the Washington coach and his family to the White House this morning.

"This was close to a perfect game," Allen said. Tom Landry, the Cowboys' coach, agreed.

"Washington deserved to win," Landry said. "They were playing excellent football in every phase."

Dallas never had a chance as the marauding Redskins excelled on offense, defense and the specialty teams. The Cowboys could run only six plays, not counting punts, in the first period, and didn't get a first down until nearly 25 minutes into the game. And that came on a personal-foul penalty against Washington.

Curt Knight, who redeemed himself handsomely in the playoffs after suffering a miserable season, broke the scoreless duel with an 18-yard field goal in the second period. He later added kicks of 39, 46 and 45 to set an NFL playoff record for most field goals in a game.

But the twin lightning bolts from quarterback Billy Kilmer to wide receiver Charley Taylor were the bombs that tore asunder Dallas' vaunted Doorsday Defense.

"I think they thought I was going to try to go to (wide receiver) Roy Jefferson more and that could hurt them, so they covered him more," Kilmer said. "So I went to Taylor."

Just after nine minutes into the second quarter, Kilmer found Taylor streaking across the middle on a slant-in to connect on a 35-yard touchdown aerial. That made the score 10-0 before Toni Fritsch added three for Dallas with a 35-year field goal that hit the left upright, then bounced across.

After that, it was all Washington as the Redskins' Crunch Bunch kept quarterback Roger Staubach and his Cowboy cohorts surrounded.

Staubach, getting his first starting call since he was injured in preseason, failed to ignite the potentially explosive Cowboy attack. The former Heisman Trophy winner from Navy connected on only nine of 20 passes for 98 yards.

Kilmer, on the other hand, was nearly flawless, hitting 14 of 18 for 194 yards and the two scores.

"We had our opportunities," Landry said, "but we missed them and they didn't."

Veteran referee blasts controversial call

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Veteran referee Burns McKinney, retiring after 34 years of officiating in the Southwest Conference, said Sunday he had "never seen anything" like the unsportsmanlike conduct penalty that cost Texas Tech a vital touchdown in Saturday's 32-28 Sun Bowl loss to North Carolina.

Bill Davis, an Atlantic Coast Conference official, made the call that triggered an explosion of anger on the Red Raider bench.

"It (the call) was a shame...and a new one on me," said McKinney.

It happened in the second quarter with North Carolina leading 9-0. Tech's Davis Corley blocked a Tar Heel punt and Donald Hives plucked the ball off the ground and ran 32 yards down the sidelines for an apparent touchdown.

However, Davis threw a flag toward Tech Coach Jim Carlen. McKinney said "Bill told me that a coach was on the field and I (Davis) had to go around him."

"I asked him was it before or after the score," McKinney said. "Davis said it was before the score."

McKinney penalized Tech 15 yards from the spot where the Tech coach came on the field.

Tech Coach Jim Carlen said he didn't remember going on the field but said "I had to dodge a photographer wearing a red jacket." Tech's team colors are red and black.

McKinney of Midland said "In 34 years, I've never seen anything just like it."

McKinney agreed with Texas Tech Athletic Director J.T. King who said "An official can make the call anytime a touchdown is scored. There is always that much enthusiasm on any bench."

McKinney said "The rule is there but you've got to display good horse sense when officiating."

Asked if he thought Davis had shown good "horse sense" McKinney said "I can't answer that for you."

He added "It was a wild way to go out. It was a good ball game other than that incident. It really set off a spark on the field. We had to keep talking to settle the players down."

The flap overshadowed a tremendous offensive game in which Tech's George Smith scored three touchdowns and quarterback Nick Vidnovic of the Tar Heels threw two touchdown passes—the last with 60 seconds to play to win the game.

NAMED TO HALL OF FAME

BALTIMORE (AP) — Four sports figures, including pro golfer Deane Beman and athletic director Tommy Mont of DePaul University, have been elected to the Maryland State Athletic Hall of Fame.

Also selected were John Donohue, an All-America lacrosse player at St. John's College in 1935, and the late Joe Gans, world lightweight boxing champion in the early 1900s.

Humble XXed out

HOUSTON (AP) — One of the biggest names in the oil business was XXed out today when Humble Oil & Refining Co. bowed to the demands of marketing and the whims of the computer.

Humble, a name that dates back to the Humble, Tex., oil field, is no more. Instead, with the expenditure of at least $100 million, it's now the Exxon Co., U.S.A.

The new name, double XX and all, was picked out of a computer by the company for a serious reason—so it could sell gasoline under the same name across the country. Because of legal rulings after the breakup of the giant Standard Oil Co. in 1911, Humble had been forced to market its products under the names Esso, Enco and Humble.

It was in January of 1911 that Ross Sterling, along with five other operators, decided they were drilling themselves into bankruptcy in the Humble field and decided to join forces under the Humble name.

To erase that name, Humble—or, should we say, Exxon—has spent $100 to $200 million. The company won't say how much, and the estimates come from other people in the industry.

Last November the company started replacing all the signs on its service stations across the country. Every one of the 25,000 signs needed an average of 50 changes, company officials said, from replacing decals on uniforms to putting up the new highway signs. About 138,000 signs were needed for gasoline pumps alone.

More than half a million pieces of company property have new identities bolted, embossed, painted or glued on, and Exxon had to hire warehouses just to store newly printed forms and stationery until they are needed.

Meanwhile the company's parent corporation, Standard Oil of New Jersey, has also bitten the bullet and changed its name to Exxon Corp.

They checked trademarks and company names in all 50 states.

Pressure is low in one arm

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I am a widow in my late 60s and in fair health. I would like to know why I have low blood pressure in my left arm and high blood pressure in my right arm.

Dear Reader—Of course, I don't know how much difference in pressure you actually have between the two arms. Small variations in pressure are common. Also, in people whose blood pressure fluctuates rapidly, the difference may be evidence of the lability of the blood pressure. The doctor can eliminate this possibility by repeating the pressures after the lower reading is obtained in one arm.

Assuming that you do have a significant difference in blood pressure in the two arms which is not just a fluctuation, then one has to think of some obstruction of the arteries. The artery to the right arm is the first artery to come directly from the aortic arch (the main artery that carries blood from the heart to most of the body). The artery to the other arm originates from this main aortic arch artery a little farther along. If there is an obstruction in the arch between the origin of these two arteries, it is usually situated in such a place that the blood pressure will be higher in the right arm (before the obstruction) than it is in the left arm (beyond the obstruction).

One common cause of an obstruction in the aortic arch between the two arteries is a birth defect, technically called coarctation of the aorta. I would be very much surprised if this was your problem in view of your age, and since apparently such a diagnosis has never been made. If you do, however, you should also have lower blood pressure in both legs as compared to your right arm. I would also expect to see a fairly large pulsation at the bottom of your throat,

People in the News

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Edward G. Robinson, 79, best known for his film portrayals of gangsters, is undergoing tests at Mt. Sinai Hospital, a spokesman there said today.

The spokesman said Robinson's condition was "satisfactory" and "not an emergency situation" but would not say why he was undergoing tests.

New Year was late

The New Year came one second late for revelers around the world this year as observatories adjusted their clocks to more precise alignment with the earth's rotation.

Not many noticed the extra second, of course, but Russell Brown was in a quandary.

Brown presides over the annual lowering of the illuminated ball on the Allied Chemical Tower in Manhattan's Times Square, the symbol for millions of American television viewers of the passing of the old year.

"God forbid anything should go wrong in the world for a full second," he said, laughing. "But 11:59:61 is going to look very funny at the bottom of everybody's TV screen, right?"

Celebrations by ordinary citizens around the world today were expected to coincide at times with New Year's messages for 1973 from heads of state.

Many Chinese were to spend the day in movie houses, watching a color documentary film on the meeting of Chairman Mao Tse-tung and Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, the Viet Cong's chief negotiator at the Paris peace talks.

Calls for an end to war in 1973 were heard from such heads of state as Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin, who demanded "the earliest signing by the United States of an agreement on a cease-fire and restoration of peace in Vietnam."

Indonesian President Suharto called on all "disputing parties" in Vietnam to eschew violence in favor of "good will and honesty."

The actor also is known for his art collection, which includes Renoirs, Gauguins, Corots and Matisse.

Robinson was hospitalized for three weeks with a heart attack in 1962 and underwent abdominal surgery for ruptured blood vessels suffered in a 1966 auto crash.

NEW DELHI (AP) — Gen. Sam Manekshaw, army chief of staff since 1969, is to become India's first field marshal, according to the Defense Ministry.

Manekshaw, a veteran of World War II and the French Indochina campaign, is to hold the rank for life, the ministry said Sunday.

President Nixon, and her husband, Edward, saw the Tchaikovsky opera "Yevgeny Onegin" at the Bolshoi Theater on New Year's Eve.

Few in the audience seemed aware of the couple sitting in a box decked in red and gold just to the left of the stage. Tricia, who was wearing a silvery sheath dress, and her husband had made a discreet entrance. They did not mingle with other spectators during intermissions. The couple arrived here Saturday evening for a short visit to tour museums and other points of interest. They are expected to go to Leningrad at midweek.

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Actor Laurence Harvey and fashion model Paulene Stone have been married in private ceremonies here.

Harvey, 44, was divorced from his second wife, the former Joan Cohn, last February. Miss Stone, 31, was married once before.

After the marriage Sunday, the couple said they had no immediate honeymoon plans because of Harvey's film commitments.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Miss America 1972 and her new husband are honeymooning in the South Sea islands.

The former Miss Laurie Lea Schaefer was married here Saturday night to John Miles Lurie in a candlelight ceremony attended by about 800 persons.

After their honeymoon cruise, the Luries intend to return to the United States in time for the presidential inaugural ball. They will live in the Columbus area.

Mrs. Lurie is a freelance actress. Her husband, an Illinois native and a former Columbus newscaster, plans to enter medical school in July.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Mao Tse-tung, leader of Communist China, has been named man of the year by a Beirut newspaper in preference to President Nixon.

As Safa, an independent French-language daily, said Sunday that, while Nixon was "perpetually resorting to war" to achieve his ends, Mao realized much progress and victories with his "silent power."

NEW YORK (AP) — Folk singer Joan Baez and three other antiwar activists have returned from a trip to Hanoi with 600 letters from American prisoners of war to friends and relatives in the United States.

Pearson buried

WAKEFIELD, Que. (AP) — Lester Bowles Pearson, 14th prime minister of Canada and winner of the Nobel Peace Prize, was buried at dusk Sunday in a $10 country graveyard plot he bought 30 years ago.

Only family, closest friends and a few others attended the final five-minute rites under a freezing rain that kept many world dignitaries from attending earlier services in Ottawa, 25 miles south.

The scholar-diplomat, whom many called "Mike," died Wednesday of cancer that doctors said had spread to his liver after destroying one eye. He was 75.

Prime Minister Edward Heath of Britain was the only foreign leader able to attend the funeral. Vice President Spiro Agnew of the United States returned to Washington when his plane could not land in driving rain and snow at Ottawa's airport.

The state funeral was held in Christ Church Anglican Cathedral after the body lay in state on Parliament Hill, where lights were dimmed and flags lowered until the burial.

Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau, who succeeded Pearson in office in 1968, led honorary pallbearers.

The high point of Pearson's diplomatic career — before he began his climb in Canadian politics — came in 1957, when he received the Nobel Peace Prize. It recognized his efforts the year before in setting up a U.N. peacekeeping force to mediate differences between Egypt and Israel.

The peace lasted until the 1967 six-day war between the two countries.

Pearson was prime minister from 1963-1968.

Big question mark for Oklahoma team

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Oklahoma Sooners, who finished the 1971 college football campaign as the No. 2 team in the country, will have to wait until late this afternoon to learn whether they'll be bridesmaids once more.

"I don't want to get into an argument about that," Coach Chuck Fairbanks said Sunday night after his team rang out 1972 the way it began it last Jan. 1—with a victory in the Sugar Bowl. "Oklahoma is the best as far as I'm concerned. But if we don't have the best

Prospecting Isn't What It Used To Be

For one thing, it doesn't attract many people these days and for another, equipment is greatly changed from Klondike days. But it's far from a lost art yet. Charlie Marlon of Rosewell, Ga., is a weekend prospector who finds pleasure and mild profit in working the Etowah River. Above, he shows Ellen Westledge of Atlanta how to use a metal detector. Left, setting up a portable dredge and, below, filling a sluice with promising bottom silt. While Marlon says he doesn't expect to get rich from his pastime, just maybe . . .

Helen help us!

To Start the New Year Right... DEAR READERS: New Year's Day is no time for problems. Let's start 1973 right,

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The U.S. National Guard originated with the Old North Regiment of the Colonial Militia in Massachusetts in 1636. The National Guard is the oldest military force in the country and has participated in all U.S. wars and conflicts since the Revolutionary War. The World Almanac notes. 73-YEAR-OLD BATTERY

NEW YORK (AP) — When New York Mets press room director Bill Boylan reached his 73rd birthday last August another 73-year-old former athlete sent him a congratulatory note. The note came from Bob Berman who turned 73 last January. Boylan pitched and Berman caught for the South Philadelphia Hebrews team in the 1930s. In 1918, Berman caught two games for the Washington Senators. In later years he coached baseball at Brooklyn's Bushwick and Franklin K. Lane high schools.

Boylan pitched batting practice for the New York Giants in 1920-21 and after that pitched batting practice for the Brooklyn Dodgers. Boylan's regular job was that of a Brooklyn milkman.

with upbeat comments from readers: DEAR HELEN: You know how it is when wives get together: they practice one-up womanish, each trying to outdo the others on "The trouble with MY husband. . ." This reverse bragging is contagious. I find myself telling "funny" stories that make my really great husband look like a dummy. Some of the gals reach for the jugular—there's nothing humorous about their complaints.

Yet only one woman in our club is on the verge of divorce. The rest more or less love their men—they just feel compelled to cut them down in public. (Do men get gossipy like this about their wives in an all-male gathering? I've often wondered, even though my husband insists they don't.) Well, we tried something new at our last club meeting. As each person received her "exchange" Christmas gift, she was required to describe briefly "What I like best about my husband. . ." or "the nicest thing he did this week."

We got some wonderful answers, everything from super-sentimental to hilarious (He inflates my ego," from a very pregnant lady). Best of all, we didn't revert to criticisms the rest of the afternoon. This may even be the beginning of a new kind of chit-chat for members.

. . . And maybe we'll soon have to watch it, or we'll be doing the stuffy "My guy is better than your guy" thing. — CLUB MEMBER WITHOUT HER CLUB

DEAR HELEN:

It seems that quite a few moderns are going in for "serial monogamy"—the "live together till a new interest do us part" replacement for marriage, in which there's no room for children or real commitment. Here's a housewife's answer:

No, marriage isn't all roses. There are times during the day when I don't feel like singing its praises. With four loads of wash to do, a stack of ironing staring me down, dinner to cook and two small offspring, I sometimes find myself thinking of the carefree, self-centered single days. But then I remember the look in my husband's eyes that says, "I'm glad I married you" . . . a wink, a kiss, a touch—signs only he and I understand . . . his proud surprise when I serve his favorite meal or he finds his golf clubs polished . . . my completeness as I watch him bathe the baby or read little Mark a story—or build a storage cupboard in the garage. And at night, with the children tucked in bed and John and I the only two people in the world, somehow I can't recall the chaos of a few hours earlier. Lying beside him, protected by his loving arms, I know there is no substitute for this kind of happiness.

Is marriage a trap? Yes, I'm trapped—in my feelings for my husband and family. I love John, need him, want him. I can't escape these feelings. Thank God they are mutual.

No, I'm not an outdated romanticist. I'm 23, with a lot of happy years ahead. —MRS. J.W.S. (and proud of the title!) DEAR HELEN: Husbands mean well—but what with all those TV football games, they think of first things first:

At night—a residence on fire. The neighbors gather now in swarms. A man is seen, clad in p.j.'s, Cradling his TV in his arms. Over his shoulder he yells in despair, "Go get my wife—she's still in there!" —HEIDI MONK

And here's a tribute to a first wife, written by her successor: She taught you well, that gentle one, Who was for three brief years your wife. How else would you have known

So many lovely things to do for me? The dew-washed blossom by my breakfast plate; The little notes you write and tuck about In unexpected places For me to come upon, while dusting, Or stirring up a cake; The scarf you draw about my shoulders

Almost before I know the need myself. No, she is not dead. Her life goes on to bless My life in your dear thoughtfulness. —EDITH MCBRIDE

This column is dedicated to family living so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help YOU. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Write to Helen Bottel care of this newspaper.

We will always remember with deep gratitude your comforting expressions of sympathy, love and prayers and the many things you did to make the loss of our loved one easier to bear. May God's richest blessings be with you.
